

List of Contributors and Editors

Nisuke Ando, Director, Kyoto Human Rights Research Institute; Professor Emeritus, Kyoto University; Member, Permanent Court of Arbitration; Membre, L'Institut de Droit international; former member (1987-2006) and Chairperson of the Human Rights Committee.

Bogdan Aurescu, Dr., Professor-Lecturer, Faculty of Law, University of Bucharest; President of the Romanian Branch of International Law Association and Editor-in-Chief of the Romanian Journal of International Law; member of the Permanent Court of Arbitration; substitute member of the Venice Commission of the Council of Europe and Agent of Romania before ICJ in the Case concerning Maritime Delimitation in the Black Sea (Romania v. Ukraine).

Boutros Boutros-Ghali is President of the Curatorium of The Hague Academy of International Law and Honorary Member of the Institute of International Law. Previously he served as Secretary-General of the United Nations, the Secrétaire général de la Francophonie, and the Deputy Prime Minister for Foreign Affairs and Minister of State for Foreign Affairs of Egypt. He has published widely on issues of international law and relations and has received various honorary degrees.

Rudolf Bernhardt, Professor em. at the Law Faculty of Heidelberg University; former director of the Max-Planck-Institute for Comparative Public Law and International Law in Heidelberg; Judge (1981-1998), Vice-President (1992-1998) and President (1998) of the European Court of Human Rights.

Michale Bothe, Professor emeritus, Dr. iur. (Heidelberg). Professor of Public Law, in particular international law at the Universities of Heidelberg, Hannover and Frankfurt, 1977-2003; visiting professor/lecturer at different universities in Europe, the United States and Australia, and director and coordinator of a number of major international research projects. Currently Chair, Commission for International Humanitarian Law, German Red Cross, and President, International Humanitarian Fact-Finding Commission.

Bartram S. Brown (B.A., Harvard, J.D., Columbia, Ph.D., the Graduate Institute of International Studies, Geneva, Switzerland) is Professor of Law and Co-Director of the Program in International and Comparative Law at the Chicago-Kent College of Law, Illinois Institute of Technology. He is a member of the American Law Institute and of the Council on Foreign Relations.

Antônio Augusto Cançado Trindade, Ph.D. (Cambridge); Judge and Former President of the Inter-American Court of Human Rights; Professor of International Law at the University of Brasilia, Brazil; Member of the Curatorium of the Hague Academy of International Law, and of the Institut de Droit international; Honorary Editor, Chinese Journal of International Law. He gave the general course in public international law at The Hague Academy of International Law in 2005.

Vladimir-Djuro Degan, Membre de l'Institut de Droit international; Marco Polo Fellow and Visiting Professor (spring 2008), The Silk Road Institute of International Law, Xi'an Jiaotong University, Xi'an, China; Emeritus Professor of the University of Rijeka (Croatia); Director, The Adriatic Institute, Croatian Academy of Sciences; Honorary Editor, Chinese Journal of International Law; Lecturer at The Hague Academy of International Law; author of Sources of International Law (Martinus Nijhoff 1997) and numerous articles.

Curtis F.J. Doebbler is a professor of law at An-Najah National University in Palestine and a visiting professor at several European universities. He also practices law before international human rights tribunals in the UN and regional systems. His publications on international human rights and international affairs have appeared in academic and popular journals/newspapers around the world. He is also the author of seven books on international law and affairs.

Karl Doebring, Prof. Dr. iur. Dres. h.c. 1956, Dr. iur., Law Faculty, Heidelberg.

1962, Professor (comparative and international law), Law Faculty, Heidelberg. 1980, Director at the Max-Planck-Institute for Comparative Public Law and International Law, Heidelberg. Membre honoraire de l'Institut de Droit international. 1981-1985, President of the German Society of International Law. 1989-1990, Professor at the Emory University (Atlanta, USA). Principal publications: Das Staatsrecht der Bundesrepublik Deutschland, 3rd ed. 1984; Völkerrecht, 2nd ed. 2004; Allgemeine Staatslehre, 3rd ed. 2004.

Christian Dominicé, Swiss citizen, born in Geneva in 1931. Dr. iur. (Geneva), Master of International Affairs (Columbia University New York), Dr h.c. (Paris-Nord). Professor of International Law at the Law School of the University of Geneva since 1961 (Dean 1969-1974), and since 1978 at the Graduate Institute of International Studies (Director 1978-1984). Secretary-general of the Institut de Droit international (1991-2003).

DUAN Jielong, LL.M. (China University of Foreign Affairs; Columbia Law School); Director-General, Department of Treaty and Law, Ministry of Foreign Affairs, China (since 2006); formerly, Deputy Director-General of the Department; Counselor (Legal Affairs) at the Embassy of China, Washington, D.C.; First Secretary (Legal Affairs), Permanent Mission of China to the United Nations.

L.N. Galenskaya is a professor of the Law Faculty of Saint-Petersburg State University. She has a scientific degree of doctor of legal sciences. The author of Law of Asylum, International Struggle with Criminality, Muses and Law, International Private Law and more than 500 articles, she is the Editor-in-Chief of the Russian Yearbook of International Law and Journal of International Private Law.

William E. Holder, an Australian, was formerly the Deputy General Counsel of the International Monetary Fund. He is now a consultant and lecturer on international legal issues. Mr. Holder has written and lectured widely, and co-edited the Australian casebook, The International Legal System (Butterworths 1972).

Bing Bing Jia, D.Phil. (Oxon.); Professor of International Law, Law School, Tsinghua University, Beijing; formerly legal officer of the UNICTY.

Mariko Kawano, Professor of International Law, Waseda University, School of Law, Member of the Executive Board of the Japanese Association of International Law and of the World Law Association. She co-edited with Professor McWhinney the book of Judge Shigeru Oda and the Path to Judicial Wisdom (2006).

Philippe Kirsch, QC, is judge and the first President of the International Criminal Court (ICC). He has chaired numerous international law-making conferences, including the Committee of the Whole of the Rome Conference establishing the ICC and the Preparatory Commission for the ICC. He is an associate member of the Institute of International Law.

Hans Köchler, University Professor and Chairman of the Department of Philosophy at the University of Innsbruck (Austria); Life Fellow of the International Academy for Philosophy; President of the International Progress Organization, an NGO in consultative status with the United Nations; editor of the series Studies in International Relations and member of the Editorial Board of the journal Hikmat va Falsafah.

Pieter H. Kooijmans was a Professor of Public International Law at the Free University of Amsterdam (1965-1973) and at the University of Leiden (1978-1992 and 1995-1997). He was State Secretary for Foreign Affairs (1973-1977) and Minister of Foreign Affairs (1993-1994) of the Netherlands. He also was Chairman of the UN Commission on Human Rights (1984) and UN Special Rapporteur on Questions relevant to Torture (1985-1992). He was Judge in the International Court of Justice (1997-2006). He is Member of the Institut de Droit international.

Abdul G. Koroma, Member of the International Court of Justice since 6 February 1994. Prior to joining the Court, he served as the Permanent Representative of Sierra Leone to the United Nations in New York. Judge Koroma is also a Member of the Committee of Experts on the Application of Conventions and Recommendations, International Labour Office. He has written and lectured extensively on self-determination, human rights, humanitarian law, and the peaceful settlement of disputes.

Maivân Clech Lâm teaches international law at the Graduate Center, City University of New York; advises the American Indian Law Alliance; and writes at the confluence of law and anthropology. Her publications include: “The Kuleana Act Revisited: the Survival of Traditional Hawaiian Commoner Rights in Land”, Washington Law Review (1989); “Feeling Foreign in Feminism”, Signs (1994); and At the Edge of the State: Indigenous Peoples and Self-Determination (2000).

Jacques-Yvan Morin taught public international law from 1958 to 1973 and from 1984 to 2006 at Université de Montréal, of which he is emeritus professor. He has also taught at The Hague Academy of International Law and at the universities of Paris, Poitiers, Lyon and Rabat, as well as at the Université Senghor in Alexandria. He is a member of the Institut de Droit international. He was associate editor of the Canadian Yearbook of International Law and founding editor of the Revue québécoise de droit international.

Rein Müllerson, Professor and Chair of International Law, King’s College, London; former the UN Regional Adviser for Central Asia (2004); Visiting Centennial Professor of the LSE (1992-94); First Deputy Foreign Minister of Estonia (1991-92); Member of the UN Human Rights Committee (1988-92); former Head of the Department of International Law at the Institute of State and Law in Moscow and Advisor to President Gorbachev of the USSR on international law; Member of the Institut de Droit international (Geneva); Marco Polo Fellow and Visiting Professor (Autumn 2007), The Silk Road Institute of International Law, Xi’an Jiaotong University, China.

Shinya Murase, JSD, University of Tokyo, 1972. Visiting Scholar, Harvard Law School, 1974-76. Legal Officer, Codification Division, Office of Legal Affairs, United Nations, 1980-82. Visiting Professor, Columbia Law School, 1995. Judge, ADB Administrative Tribunal, 1998-2004. Lead Author, IPCC 4th Assessment Report, WG-III, 2004-2007. Member, Curatorium of the Hague Academy of International Law since 2004.

Shigeru Oda holds law degrees from the University of Tokyo and Yale University (LLM and JSD). As one of the very early specialists in the emerging new International Law of the Sea, he was asked to serve on the West German legal team in the North Sea Continental Shelf cases in the ICJ. Elected to the ICJ in 1975 and subsequently reelected to second and third terms, he served from 1976 to 2003, including the office of Vice-President in 1991-1994. He thus was the longest serving member in the history of the ICJ and its predecessor the PCIJ. Elected to the Institut de Droit international in 1969, he became an Honorary Member in 2001. A former member of the Curatorium of The Hague Academy of International Law, he is a Member of the Japan Academy.

Dr. Maurizio Ragazzi, formerly an associate at the New York and Paris offices of White & Case and an ICC sole arbitrator, is currently Senior Counsel (International Law) at the World Bank. In addition to an LLM (Columbia) and a DPhil (Oxford) in law, he has graduate degrees in theology and canon law.

Manuel Rama-Montaldo is Doctor of Law and Social Sciences (Montevideo), and holder of Diploma in International Law (Oxford). Formerly, he was Associate Professor and Chargé de cours of Public International Law, University of the Republic, Montevideo; Secretary of the UN Programme of Assistance in the Teaching, Study, Dissemination and Wider Appreciation of International Law; Deputy Director for Research and Studies and Deputy Director, Codification Division, UN Office of Legal Affairs. Currently, he acts as Consultant for the International Criminal Court.

Sompong Sucharitkul, D.Phil., D.C.L. (Oxon); Docteur en Droit (Paris); LL.M. (Harvard); Emeritus Associate Dean and Distinguished Professor of International and Comparative Law, Golden Gate University School of Law (San Francisco); Former Ambassador of Thailand; Former Vice-President and Special Rapporteur of the ILC; Membre Titulaire de l'Institut de Droit international (Geneva); Member of the Panels of Arbitrators and of Conciliators of ICSID (World Bank); Former Member of the UNCC; and Former President of ASEAN-ID Arbitral Tribunal.

Professor Stefan Talmon is Fellow of St. Anne's College, Oxford, and Professor of Public International Law in the University of Oxford. As a member of the English and German Bars he has advised governments and corporations on questions of public international law and European Union law.

Hugh Thirlway retired in 2007 from his post as Principal Legal Secretary of the International Court of Justice, after spending the greater part of his career in the service of the Court. He was for a number of years Professor of International Law at the Graduate Institute of International Studies, Geneva, and is at present attached to the Universities of Leiden (NL) and Bristol (UK).

Daniel Turp, member of the National Assembly of Québec, for Mercier; Professor, Faculty of Law, Université de Montréal (since 1982) (on leave since April 14, 2003); Visiting professor, International Institute of Human Rights, Strasbourg (1988) and several other universities, colleges and institutes; Director of studies and guest professor, The Hague Academy of International Law (1995).

Johannes van Aggelen received doctoral degrees from Nijmegen and McGill. A specialist on the Palestinian - Israeli question, he lectured extensively for the United Nations over the period 1980-2007 on international human rights and other subjects. A guest professor at UC Berkeley in 1998, he has lectured at many universities around the world. A polyglot, he has published two books and over 150 articles and book reviews in various languages.

Vladlen S. Vereshchetin, Professor of international law, Maître émérite des Sciences of the Russian Federation. Formerly Judge at the International Court of Justice, Member and Chairman of the International Law Commission, Deputy Director of the Moscow Institute of State and Law of the Russian Academy of Sciences.

Daniel Vignes, Directeur général honoraire au Secrétariat du Conseil de l'Union européenne, Ancien professeur à la Faculté de droit de Bruxelles, Membre honoraire de l'Institut de Droit international.

Budislaw Vukas, Professor of Public International Law, Faculty of Law, University of Zagreb; former member of the International Tribunal for the Law of the Sea (1996-2005, Vice-President 2002-2005), lectured at the Hague Academy of International Law (1992); member of the Institut de Droit international (Rapporteur on The Humanitarian Assistance on which the Institute adopted the Resolution in 2003); Judge ad hoc in the case concerning the Application of the Convention on the Prevention and Punishment of the Crime of Genocide (Croatia v. Serbia) before the International Court of Justice.

Rüdiger Wolfrum, born 13th December, 1941, Berlin; Director at the Max Planck Institute for Comparative Public Law and International Law, Professor at the University of Heidelberg; “Honorarprofessor” at the University of Hamburg; President of the German Society for International Law; President of the International Tribunal for the Law of the Sea; Membre associé of the Institut de Droit international.

Claire Osborn Wright attended Smith College and Harvard Law School, after which she clerked for the U.S. Court of Appeals for the D.C. Circuit (primarily for then-Judge Ruth Bader Ginsburg). She is an associate professor at Thomas Jefferson School of Law, an adjunct professor at the U.C., San Diego, and a member of the American Law Institute, where she contributes to the Institute’s Project on World Trade Law. Formerly, she was a partner at Baker & McKenzie and Ernst & Young LLP and taught trade law at Stanford Law School.

Sienho Yee, University Professor of International Law and Chair of the Academic Committee, National Key Research Center, Wuhan University Institute of International Law, China; Editor-in-Chief, Chinese Journal of International Law; Formerly Tengfei Professor, Xi’an Jiaotong University. Martinus Nijhoff published in 2004 his collected essays titled Towards an International Law of Co-progressiveness. He has published extensively on the ICJ, with one paper quoted and discussed by governments and one Judge there.